PUBLIC DISCLOSURE COMMISSION
1984 ELECTION FINANCING FACT BOOK

ADDENDUM
March 1986

EXECUTIVE CANDIDATES: Post-election activity

At the end of the 1984 election year, five candidates for major statewide offices reported large deficits in their campaign treasuries. This group included both major party candidates for governor, the defeated Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, and both major party candidates for attorney general, all of whom had outstanding loans as well as unpaid bills for goods and services incurred during the campaign.

The candidates and the status of their respective campaign funds at the close of 1984 were:

	Contributions Expenditures	Balance on hand	Loans Unpaid orders	Net Deficit
Booth Gardner	$2,946,810 2,925,898	$20,912	$890,000 1,295	$870,382
John Spellman	2,009,163 1,999,391	9,772	25,610 95,908	111,746
Ken Eikenberry	438,261 434,824	3,437	30,000 19,820	46,383
Phil Talmadge	461,412 466,630	(5,218)	8,000 72,618	85,836
Eleanor Lee	77,206 77,199	7	16,442 12,938	29,373

For these candidates to repay their campaign debts, it would be necessary for all of them, winners and losers, to continue raising money. The Public Disclosure Commission's 1984 Election Financing Fact Book listed the major contributors to the candidates as of the last report filed for the calendar year. The purpose of this addendum is to bring that publication up to date by reporting on the post-election fund-raising efforts of these candidates who had indebtedness at the time the Fact Book was prepared.

BOOTH GARDNER

The campaign committee for the successful Democratic candidate for governor had a cash balance of less than $20,000 at the end of 1984, but was still in debt, having borrowed a total of $890,000. Creditors included the Bank of California, $600,000; First Interstate Bank, $225,000; and four individuals, for amounts ranging between $5,000 and $25,000.

Throughout 1985 the committee continued to raise money and to liquidate some of the indebtedness. The First Interstate Bank loan was repaid entirely by May 1. Of the total amount of $65,000 loaned by four individuals, $12,500 was forgiven and the rest was repaid by the end of the year. The $600,000 loan from the Bank of California was still unpaid at the end of 1985, but $100,000 was repaid on January 27, 1986, reducing the principal to $500,000.

The committee received $443,858 in new contributions during 1985. Nearly half of this came during the month of January, and almost one fourth in December. Fund-raising was a continuing but irregular activity throughout 1985, as shown in the following month-by-month totals of contributions received:

GARDNER RECEIPTS 1985-1986

January 1985	$218,903
February	34,031
March	21,515
April	15,846
May	9,100
June	6,772
July	12,864
August	3,500
September	0
October	13,009
November	0
December	108,300
January 1986	119,888
TOTAL	$563,746

The receipts shown above do not include two reported contributions in kind from Gardner in the form of interest on the loans, totalling $51,549.

The 1985 receipts, with adjustments for loans repaid or forgiven, brought the total from the beginning of the campaign through December 31, 1985, to $3,164,052, and total expenditures to $3,101,235.

The supplemental contributor list at the end of this report consists of those who made contributions of $500 or more during 1985 and the first month of 1986, and it shows the total (including 1984 amounts) that each such contributor is reported as having given to the campaign.

JOHN SPELLMAN

John Spellman's campaign committee also ended the 1984 election year with a deficit. Total reported receipts and expenditures at the end of the year were approximately $2 million. Unpaid campaign bills added up to $95,908 in addition to $25,610 in outstanding loans. By June 10, 1985, the committee filed a report showing that all loans and bills had either been forgiven or repaid. Receipts in the form of cash or in-kind contributions during 1985 were $110,637. Of the loans, $10,000 was actually repaid and the rest ($15,610) was forgiven.

Those who contributed $500 or more to the Spellman committee in 1985 are listed at the end of the report.

KEN EIKENBERRY

The 1984 campaign committee for Republican attorney general Ken Eikenberry reported outstanding loans of $30,000 and unpaid bills amounting to $19,820 at the end of 1984. The last report filed by this committee was dated May 14, 1985, and showed that the loans had been completely repaid and that all but $6,589 of the unpaid orders had been paid. These obligations were assumed and eventually paid or settled by a successor committee, named the Ken Eikenberry 88 Committee.

Prior to formation of the new committee, the 1984 campaign committee reported receiving a total of $71,139 in contributions and refunds between January 10 and May 10, 1985. (Two C-3 reports listing names of contributors of a total of $11,106 were referenced on a C-4 report, but apparently were not filed.) This money was used to pay the loan and other campaign bills as well as other expenses incurred after the end of the campaign. The Ken Eikenberry 88 Committee reported an additional $51,077 in contributions received during 1985 and had total expenditures of $33,372.

Two lists follow at the end of this report, one showing major contributors to the 1984 campaign committee, the other listing major contributors to the 1988 campaign committee, as reported through February 10, 1986.

PHIL TALMADGE

The committee for attorney general candidate Phil Talmadge owed $72,618 for orders placed during the campaign and another $8,000 for money borrowed in 1984. Income for this committee in 1985 amounted to $100,599 including approximately $17,000 as in-kind contributions in the form of bills and fees that were forgiven and written off as donations to the campaign. By the end of 1985, with no more indebtedness, total receipts for the entire campaign were reported as $551,881 with total expenditures of $547,516, leaving an apparent balance of just over $4,000. All loans had been repaid and all of the unpaid orders had been paid or settled. Some of the campaign consultants to whom money was owed at the end of the campaign were paid less than the full amounts owed them. The last $2,292 of a $14,600 printing bill became an in-kind contribution from the printing company.

Contributions of $250 or more in 1985 amounted to more than $50,000. The contributors are listed at the end of the report.

ELEANOR LEE

The Republican nominee for lieutenant governor, Eleanor Lee, had raised and spent approximately $77,000 in that campaign as of the end of 1984. The contributions included $16,442 in loans, and additional expenditures amounted to $12,938 in unpaid orders placed. The committee received an additional $12,537 during 1985, and was able to repay $4,000 of the money that had been borrowed and to pay $5,793 on the orders placed during the campaign.

Contributors of $250 or more who were reported to the PDC by the Lee committee are listed at the end of this report.

1985 SUMMARY

The following table summarizes the 1985 fund-raising of these five candidates:

Washington State Department of Printing
Olympia, Washington

FOREWORD

The 1984 Election Financing Fact Book is published by the Washington State Public Disclosure Commission pursuant to its authority as contained in RCW 42.17.370(2) to publish reports and statistics concerning campaign financing so that such information may be fully disclosed to the public.

Material in this book is based on reports as filed by candidates and political committees, most of them unaudited. Every effort has been made to assure accuracy of calculations in compiling the statements in this book.

The state PDC reports due on January 10, 1985, showing activity through the last day of 1984, are included in this analysis. Any contributions or expenditures reported after that time are not included.

The lists of major contributors are derived from the reports filed by the candidates and initiative committees rather than from reports by the contributing entities.
